Royal Devon University Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust

Information regarding Trust

The Royal Devon University Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust is a first-wave Foundation Trust that serves a population of 400,000 people from NHS Devon, with some specialist services serving much larger populations. There are over 800 inpatient beds on the main Wonford site. Further information on the Trust can be obtained from our Trust website. The University of Exeter Medical School affords exciting opportunities to participate in both undergraduate teaching and research. The historic cathedral city of Exeter is situated in the middle of the South West Region with easy access to the countryside and coast of Devon and Cornwall. It is well served by rail, road and air links. Further information about the Trust can be found at www.rdehospital.nhs.uk.

Information regarding post

This post will be based in Exeter Occupational Health Service, Heavitree Hospital, Exeter, Devon, EX1 2ED. Heavitree Hospital is a 10 minute walk to the Wonford site. This SEQOHS nationally accredited department is a consultant led department, providing occupational health services to the Royal Devon Trust, to other NHS Trusts, local government employers and a variety of employers in the Devon and Cornwall area. It also provides services to the University of Exeter with respect to their students in regulated courses. The Clinical and Education supervisor is Dr Paul Lian, Consultant Occupational Physician who is accredited with the GMC for these purposes. There is a regular monthly internal CPD programme and attendance at the quarterly regional Occupational Health clinicians meeting is supported. This post will enable the post holder to gain experience in the field and prepare for the Occupational Medicine Specialty Training selection process.
